Hush der murderer.

Most every lawyer who says it's unconstitutional is again it.

When the weather man can be pleasant, he's a very pleasant sort.

Hell will be a very cool place to the other inhabitants after Germany gets there and uses it all up.

The President's note to Germany was clear and distinct but rather out of harmony with the tune that nation has been playing recently.

Ex-President Taft is one of the most lovable of men, but when he says that business conditions in this country would be worse than they are now if the war were to end, hardly anybody loves him well enough to believe it.

Charlie had a little game war-dog.

Who's never hard to find, And everywhere that Charlie went John came tagging up behind—or words to that effect.

The injunction to love your neighbor is all right as far as it goes, but just suppose she expected you to marry her.—Dothan Eagle.

In that case you ought to live in Utah.—Guntersville Democrat.

To the person who killed that snake and hung it up and brought a rain we extend thanks.—Dothan Eagle.

You might drop a card to Jo. Brown of Cullman. He did it.—Guntersville Democrat.

The Colonel is showing signs of growing impatient with the President over the latter's method of dealing with Germany, and may jump in any minute and settle this thing before anybody has had time to realize what has happened.

A young man was taking orders for Billy Sunday's book and when he approached a citizen, talking about this great work, the man replied: "I'm taking three or four Sunday papers, and they are about all I can read at the present."

It seems a long, long time before Alabama "regains her sanity." The anti-whiskey advertisement has been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court. It seems like the court would have had more regard for the people of Alabama and their right to drink than to their right to be sane.

Wonderful Changes.

If John H. Wallace of the State fish and game department, is the godfather of the "great mass meetings" that are being held in various counties to "uphold the policies" of Governor Henderson as has been charged there is method in John's madness. John, it will be recalled, was a candidate for Governor in the last primary, and was the only out-and-out whiskey advocate in the bunch. It is not at all improbable that John H. still has gubernatorial aspirations, and is at this early day laying his plans to make the whiskey men take him up as their candidate in the next election.—Greensboro Watchman.

During Governor Henderson's campaign his printed speech referred to fish and game department of the state, as being a "department created to give a rather bright young man a job," and he promised to do his best to abolish it. But it was the Henderson friends who held the job intact.

During the past few days when there has been so much traveling about over the state by department heads, the news items always read "Gov. Henderson and John Wallace."

And in a Paul-Stevensonized flat-footed political forecast, he put John H. Jr., as among those who might be considered serious gubernatorial timber.

Luke McLuke Says.

(From Cincinnati Enquirer.)

A man never forgets a kindness done when he does it himself. The Lord hasn't much use for the cheerful giver who gives nothing but advice.

A woman thinks that a woman correspondent is hiding something from her if there isn't a postscript at the end of the letter.

A man starts toward happiness or trouble the day he is married. And it doesn't take him long to find out which way he is headed. When she is 19 she makes up her mind to cop out an Adonis with curly hair and dimples. When she is 29 she is willing to compromise on a male animal who runs to dandruff and pimples.

The fact that a man is wearing a hero medal doesn't do him any good when he happens to step on a wooden collar button with his bare feet.

Life with some men is simply a series of waits between one pay day and the next.

The fellow who has to catch up on the time he spent loafing is always loudest in his protest that he is overworked.

When a woman spends half of her time overworking her wishbone and the other half overworking her jawbone some divorce lawyer is going to get the price of a new set of tires for his roadster.

What has become of the old-fashioned parent who used to take his son out to the woodshed and inform him that the whipping about to be administered hurt the father more than it would the son?

When mother is mad at father she often tells him that she merely puts up with him for the sake of the children. But the truth of the matter is that she merely puts up with him because he is her meal ticket.

After a man has felt the buzz saw two or three times it doesn't humiliate him so much to take a dare as it used to.

If you see it in The Advertiser it won't be a whiskey advertisement, at least until Alabama regains its sanity.

If Not Bond Issue Then, What

(Montgomery Journal.)

What if a way is found to save the honor and credit of the state when the legislature meets, without bonding a million and a half in bonds?

In what position will it leave those who are behind this mass meeting movement?

The governor can very well say that he has had nothing to do with the mass meetings, that he has neither encouraged or discouraged them.

Certainly he has avoided any expression of approval or disapproval of them.

He has neither openly endorsed or repudiated them.

But his political enemies, if he has any, can very well say that it was his duty to repudiate them when their tendency was to mislead the legislature and the people and arouse unjust prejudice against the legislative body of the state that was supposed to be doing all it could to aid the governor in bringing about a proper and business-like solution of the financial problems that confront him.

The Journal hopes the governor will let it be known yet that he does not sanction the mass meetings, that he wants to co-operate with the legislature, and he hopes and expects the legislature to co-operate with him, not half heartedly and distrustfully, but whole heartedly and unreservedly. Already the mass meetings have degenerated into a joke, in many instances.

They are listless and inert, like all other efforts to manufacture public sentiment; and are tending to create a breach between the legislative and executive departments—a breach that may retard and hamper the work of retrenchment and reform to which both the governor and the legislature are pledged.

The Mobile Register, which is supporting the bond issue, takes a similar view of the duty of the governor in his relation to the mass meetings. "There is hardly a doubt that the governor's name and power have been made use of in support of an effort to discredit the legislature and that not very delicate means were employed either," says the Register. "Something from the governor on the impropriety of this performance would be welcomed as timely."

"Invictus."

By Dr. Frank Crane.

"Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the pit from pole to pole,

I thank whatever gods may be
For unconquerable soul.

"In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not winced nor cried aloud.

Under the bludgeonings of chance
My head is bloody, but unbowed.

"Beyond the place of wrath and tears
Looms but the horror of the shade.

And yet the menace of the years
Finds, and shall find, me unafraid.

"It matters not how straight the gate,
How charged with punishment the scroll,

I am the master of my fate,
I am the captain of my soul."

One of the greatest poems in any language is this by William Ernest Henley.

There are differing standards of greatness. Some judge a poem by its sound, its euphonious vowels, the perfection of its rhythm and rhyme, its lift, its peculiar fascination for the ear; some by its originality, some by its quaintness, its unusual form; some by its fidelity to classic models, and so on.

I give first rank to Henley's poem because, first, of the importance of its message. It is a trumpet call to the life forces of us; it arouses the soul's reserves. It appeals to the very manliest thing in man, that thing in him which Carlyle terms "The Everlasting No."

After all, any piece of literature stands or falls by its thought contents, by its inspirational power. David's verse, for instance, "The Lord is my Shepherd," is greater than all or any of the ingenious rhymes of Swinburne or the sounding Alexandrines of Corneille, because the images called up by it are more majestic and waken the mind to the more amazing and more affecting visions.

The choice of words, the literary workmanship of "Invictus," however, is faultless.

There are happy phrases of the unforgettable kind. "Whatever gods there be" is a challenge to all the unknown powers. "My unconquerable soul" epitomized the whole right feeling of self-confidence. "My head is bloody but unbowed" is a sharply drawn picture of the undaunted self. "The menace of the years" visualizes the whole terror of apprehension, of presentiment. And the last two lines are pure gold.

I wish that every discouraged struggler in the battle for existence might learn these verses by heart; that you, tired and hungry, as you sit on your bedside to-night in your mean hall bedroom, might say them over before you go to sleep.

I would that every tempted woman might repeat these words every day as she looks at herself in the mirror.

I would that every man and woman who is face to face with the gaunt wall of poverty should speak to the beast in these brave words.

I would that every soul in despair who feels the clouds of failure settling down upon him would utter these mighty syllables as an incantation to disperse the gloom and bring the sun back.

If I could write these verses on the walls of every mind that contemplates suicide I would do more good than if I gave the gold of a benevolent Croesus.

If I could breathe this poem in-

Splendid Medicine
Stomach TroubleI Suffered for Several Years
Peruna Restored My Health

Mrs. Elizabeth Reuther, No. 503 Twelfth St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I am pleased to endorse Peruna as a splendid medicine for catarrh and stomach trouble, from which I suffered for several years. I took it for several months and at the end of that time found my health was restored and have felt splendidly ever since. I now take it when I contract a cold and it soon rids the system of any catarrhal tendencies."

Over Ten Years Ago.

"I would not be without Peruna. Although it was over ten years ago that I first gave you my testimonial, I am of the same opinion as when I wrote it, and give you the privilege to use it as you see fit. I still use Peruna when I think it necessary. I am recommending it to my neighbors whenever a chance occurs."

to the hearts of all those who contemplate the desperation of crime. I would be the greatest of all benefactors.

Would that I had a Gabriel's horn, whose tones would reach the whole army of the defeated, the sad, the morbid, the wretched and afraid! It would summon them again to the firing line of effort, to the heroic attack of life upon the dreaded forces of surrender and death.

Learn this poem. Store it in your heart. Say it to yourself. And it will mean more to you than all the money in all the banks of the world.

Dothan needs some small factories, but it needs the idea extended to all parts of Houston county. There shouldn't be a girl in Houston county who shouldn't be a boy who couldn't bean, corn, and everything grown on the farm, and there shouldn't be a boy who couldn't make an improvement on his father's method of farming, and produce more money from the same crop.

DODGE BROTHERS EMPLOY UNIQUE TESTING MACHINES

Torsion Machine Just Installed Only One of its Kind in Industry; Eliminating the Human Factor in Obtaining Accurate Tests of Raw and Finished Material.

"We have just installed a new torsion machine in our laboratory, the only duplicate of which is owned by the Japanese government," says F. E. McLeary, Chief Metallurgist for Dodge Brothers. "This machine is known as a torsion automatic, autographic tester and so far as I know is the only one in existence with the exception of the one sold to Japan, and now being exhibited at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

"The new machine is designed expressly for measuring the torsion or twisting strength of steel used in the manufacture of moving parts. The distinctly novel part of the machine is the autographic attachment which records in ink on a graduated chart, the torsion curve of the particular part under test. Formerly this measurement was calculated more or less accurately by an attendant, but the new device not only does away with human attention but is absolutely correct in every particular. The collection of twisted steel crankshaft connecting rods and other parts, which form part of Dodge Brothers' exhibit at the Chicago show, are the work of this machine and testify as to the remarkable uniformity of its operation.

Among the other distinctive testing devices of Dodge Brothers within a very short period the big factory is the cushion testing wearing resisting qualities of machine. This is simply an ingenious adaptation of the spring-tester seen in some of the larger factories. A weight equal to that of an average person, and round in outline is placed in contact with a fully constructed cushion, tained by Dodge Brothers is to eliminate the use of inferior material from those used in Dodge Brothers' cars. The weight is then its testing out every particle of kept moving in a perpendicular steel, paint, varnish, enamels, plane to ascertain the strength of leather, top material and every the springs and the quality of the item that goes to make up the leather and the curled hair from modern well built car, the machine which the upholstery is built. ## The Verdict!

—convincingly and overwhelmingly for Goodrich.

This company alone through the daily press of January 31st gave to the consuming public the most sweeping reduction ever made in tire prices. This established the only genuine Fair-List in existence on non-skid tires today. Goodrich prices were dated February 1st in ordinary course. Other tires were reduced in prices a few days later and the reduction dated back to February 1st.

Every real price-reduction on tires has followed the lead of Goodrich.

As always, Goodrich policy and Goodrich methods first gave the tire user the benefit of reduced prices.

We lowered tire cost for every tire user when we did that.

We were more than content to await the verdict.

And that verdict is overwhelmingly and convincingly in favor of Goodrich Tires and of Goodrich Fair-List prices.

We knew that the tire user was buying mileage-service—he was buying what the tires would do for him, rather than so much bulk rubber and fabric.

We knew what our long years of rubber manufacture and tire-making had taught us.

We knew we were making tires which had exactly the right amount of rubber and the right quantity of fabric to deliver exactly the right kind of service.

We knew that too much rubber and too much fabric would be as detrimental to the service of the tires as too little.

The tire user knows that Goodrich led in putting tire prices on their just and proper level.

You pay money for your tires. You want miles from your tires.

Goodrich Tires are built to deliver mileage at the least cost per mile, and to deliver it with the greatest ease, the greatest comfort and the greatest economy.

Every ounce of energy, every bit of intelligence, every flash of genius, every atom of efficiency in the whole Goodrich organization has been concentrated on this proposition of making tires which will surely give the greatest mileage at the least cost.

The Goodrich tire user knows that right now, today, with all the stampede to meet Goodrich prices, Goodrich quality is not meted out to his dollar buys more the service in Goodrich tires.

"As good as Goodrich" is today the plan.

Let us say to you, in all good faith and with every confidence in the fair-minded judgment of the tire user, that no other tire made has in it and of it the experience, the know-how and the know-why which govern the selection and the combination of the exact quality and quantity of rubber and fabric which constitute Goodrich Tires.

Only 5% PLUS for the Best Non-Skid

Note the following table of comparative prices on non-skid tires. Columns headed "A," "B," "C," and "D" represent four highly advertised tires and be sure to note Goodrich Safety Treads cost from 5% to 40% less than others shown below.

Honest Paint and Honest Measure

United States
Standard
Measure

Would you take the trouble to measure each can even if you were doubtful? Don't take chances of getting worthless paint or short measure for your money—

Be assured of full value by getting Lowe Brothers "High Standard" Liquid Paint. Its reputation is known. For thirty-five years Lowe Brothers have been making paint as well as they knew—and ever looking for a way to make it better. Believing that best paint could be made only from best materials, no other materials are used in their mills.

They use the most highly perfected machinery and employ only workers of skill and experience in paint manufacture.

"High Standard" Liquid Paint wears and retains its look of freshness and newness much longer than ordinary paints; it covers a greater surface to the gallon, and spreads more evenly over that surface. It is made to give full satisfaction—and it does.

Lowe Brothers
High Standard
Liquid Paint

In these days of counterfeits, adulterations and substitutions a man can't be too careful in buying such a commodity as paint. The ingredients of liquid paint and the processes of making it are a "closed book" to the average man, and the temptation to make big profits on most inferior grades has proven too strong for some manufacturers.

Would you know at sight whether the can contained the full U. S. Standard measure?

Buy a gallon can of Lowe Brothers "High Standard" Liquid Paint and it contains one full gallon; if a pint can, it has one full pint—government measure. This is the Lowe way, and there are no exceptions to it.

Just as dependable as "High Standard"

Liquid Paint are Lowe Brothers Varnishes and Enamels, for exterior or interior finish. Quick, hard drying floor paint, a Varnicol paint of great durability.

They are the best values to be had. Let us make suggestions for your color combinations. Ask for Booklets and Color Cards. See sample panels.

For the Fallen.

Laurence Binyon in the Literary Digest.

They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old; Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.

At the going down of the sun and in the morning

We will remember them.

They mingle not with their laughing comrades again;

They sit no more at familiar tables of home;

They have no lot in our labor of the daytime;

They sleep beyond England's foam.

But where our desires are and our hopes profound,

Felt as a well-spring that is hidden from sight,

To the innermost heart of their own land they are known

As the stars are known to be night;

As the stars are known to the when we are dust,

Moving in marches upon the heavenly plain,

As the stars that are starry in the time of our darkness,

To the end, to the end, they remain.

A Lover's Envy.

I envy every flower that blows Along the meadow where she goes,

And every bird that sings to her,

And every breeze that brings to her

The fragrance of the rose.

I envy every poet's rhyme

That moves her heart at eventide

And every tree that wears for her

Its brightest bloom, and bears for her

The fruitage of its prime.

I envy every southern night

That paves her path with moon-

And silvers all the leaves for her,

And in their shadows weaves for her

A dream of dear delight.

I envy none whose love requires

Of her a gift, a task that tires;

I only long to live for her,

I only ask to give to her

All that her heart desires.

Mrs. Harper to Give Two Programs—

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

"He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men, the trust of pure women and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved puppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has looked for the best in others and given them the best he had; whose life was an inspiration, his memory a benediction."—Bessie A. Stanley.

Junior-Senior Banquet.

The Senior Class of the Dothan High School was made to feel both sorry and glad on last evening when the Juniors gave them an informal banquet from 8:30 to 11:00.

The banquet hall was beautifully decorated in the Senior class colors of yellow and white interspersed with the Junior Class colors of gold and black.

Daisies and Dorothy Perkins roses were also used.

Covers were laid for sixty and in the evening a delightful five course luncheon was served.

After the following interesting and mostly witty, toasts were made the guests departed. Mr. J. Mercer Reeves, Toastmaster.

The Occasion, The Senior Class, Response, Baseball, Our Dreams, Our Sweethearts, The Faculty, Flirts, Suffragettes, Goodnight.

United Daughters Confederacy Meet.

The last business meeting of the Dothan Chapter of the U. D. C. for this year, was held Friday afternoon with Mrs. J. R. Crawford as hostess.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

Spain; Second Vice President, Shakespeare. Mrs. R. L. Baugh; Secretary, Mrs. L. G. Y. Baker; Treasurer, Mrs. F. B. Culver; Registrar, Mrs. W. F. Usery; Historian, Mrs. C. S. Tutwiler; Director, Mrs. R. T. Ghent.

After the election of officers the course of study for next year was discussed, and it was decided to use the regular course of study which is gotten out by Miss Mildred Lewis Rutherford, the Georgia Historian.

Plans for the opening meeting were discussed. It was decided to have it on June 3rd, at Mrs. Davis' birthday—at Mrs. Malone's. Many guests will be entertained and a lovely program rendered.

At the conclusion of the business, the meeting adjourned to meet again in the Fall.

Sensible Sports Garb For Women.

Notwithstanding its general outcry regarding absurdities of fashions in clothes, it will be admitted, says a woman of prominence, that, at least so far as sporting attire is concerned girls and women of today are much more sensibly garbed than were those of a generation ago. What could be more comfortable or more suitable for outdoor games and for summer camp days than the middie blouse and bloomers or short skirts which are now considered the regulation thing?

A girl who goes out to play tennis in such a costume has the satisfaction of knowing that, if she is not able to play a snappy game, it will not be the fault of her clothes. Girls who played tennis in 1880 were hampered by their attire in an extraordinary way. They wore skirts which touched the ground and which not only weighed several pounds, but bore the burden of heavy drapery. Instead of middie blouses, they wore boned basques with tight sleeves.—Exchange.

Dothan Study Club.

The Dothan Study Club has finished its course of study for this year and held its last business meeting Friday afternoon with Mrs. Norman Blum.

The election of officers for next year was the main feature of the afternoon resulting in the following: President, Mrs. E. S. Ford; Vice President, Mrs. M. A. Ellison; Secretary, Mrs. J. D. Foy; Treasurer, Mrs. J. S. Lisenby; Director, Mrs. L. G. Y. Baker.

Mrs. Collins was elected a new member and, much to the delight of the whole club, Mrs. W. C. Fritter will work with the Study Club next year.

After the business meeting the following program was enjoyed: Roll Call, Quotations from Paper, Shakespeare's Contem-poraries, Mrs. J. D. Foy. English Prisons, Mrs. T. H. McIntyre.

General Discussion. At the conclusion of the program a social hour was enjoyed and delightful sandwiches and tea were served.

Mrs. Joe Bennett leaves tomorrow for Panama City to make her home. Mrs. Edward Cannady will accompany her for a few weeks' stay.

Like hundreds of other good things, you'll find the best cakes for sale at Greene's 10c Store. If you've ever eaten one you are thinking about the delightfully delicious cake baked by F. O. Stone Co., Atlanta. That's the kind we are talking about.

SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theodor's Black-Draught.

McNall, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theodor's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Theodor's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day.

ALAGAS WIN ANOTHER GAME

Brunswick Pilots in Dothan Monday For Series of Three Games—Pascual Ready to Get Back in Game.

The Brunswick Pilots, who are leading the Georgia State League will play the Alagas in Dothan Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. As Dothan lost three to Brunswick, there is much interest in the series to be played on the home lot.

Before the starting of the game Monday President Dick Jamison of the league, will present to the Dothan club the beautiful attendance trophy, donated by the Chero-Cola Company. This trophy is a silver loving cup, on display in Chelmin's window.

Pascual Back Monday.

Ben Pascual of Enterprise, who has been out of the game for about a week on account of a sprained ankle, will in all likelihood be back in left field Monday. His ankle is about well, he says. He was going good with the stick, raking in two base hits about once a day, when he injured his ankle making a slide.

Yesterday's Game.

Valdosta, Ga., May 14.—Valdosta could not hit Hodge effectively this afternoon and Dothan won a fast game, 2 to 1. The fast fielding of the locals and the hitting of Parks featured.

Said the General Superintendent to the office manager: "who have you got to take Smith's place?—He goes up."

That is what takes place everyday in the business world. Smith is the young man who forgot about clubs, picture shows and amusements long enough to take a course of study and prepare for better things and he got the well deserved promotion. Are you going to be in Smith's class this fall, or are you going to plug along on the same old salary? We are preparing many students at the present time, let us assist you to better things.
